

When to go to the Emergency Department

Go to the nearest ED for these and other emergencies:

Difficulty breathing or shortness of breath when doing very little or resting.

Severe stomach pain.

Seizures or convulsions

Confusion or disorientation

Chest pain or tightness in the chest

Continuous vomiting or severe diarrhea with signs of dehydration such as dry tongue, dry mouth, decreased peeing (no urine for the past 6-8 hours), or very yellow/orange dark urine.

Stiff neck and sensitivity to light.

A broken bone or a wound that may need stitches

Your infant, under three months of age, has a fever over 38.5C or 101F or has a fever and it is difficult to wake her/him.

A mental health emergency such as acute psychosis or mania. Individuals having thoughts of self-harm or harming others—call Crisis Intervention at 1-888-757-7766